

Turn #61

Industrial Stage Zero: The Medieval Era
1404 Anno Domini

Next Turn's Orders Due:

Friday, 4 August 1995

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Unannounced Vacation: I do apologize for the sudden break in turnaround. I had to take an unplanned vacation just to keep me sane. I can't be god-like forever, y'know. I do break down from time to time. I also need this extra time to set up a new game which I will announce next turn.

Four Year Turns, In Effect Right Now: Lords 10 is now switching to 4 years per turn. The full tax rate drops to 80%. Troop Support, Government Support and Project Support also drops to 80%. Intel Support & Religion Support remains as before; this is because they are now being used once every four years instead of once every five years.

Another Migration Restrictions: Any region settled by tribe points or colonized within the past 30 years (a generation) may not participate in a migration.

Saved Gold and NFP: If the Saved section (at the bottom of the Order Form) is left blank, I'm going to assume that you are saving 0 NFP and 0 GP. I warn you now.

LORDS 10 UNIT CONVERSION

THE AKA'MURRID EMIRATE OF FULANI

Seldez, Emir of the Fulani

DIPLOMACY: Kebbi(f), Kurfei(a), Khalem(n), Boure(nt)

Seldez's men worked some time to restore credibility to his empire. Kebbi and Kurfei were toasted. Representatives made advance discussions with the Boure and Khalem. One setback occurred when General Mohammad move half the garrison out of pacified Yoruba. The Afro Pagans there rose in rebellion against the depleted guards and became a free land. Elsewhere, the protectorate leaders of Nupe converted spontaneously to Islam. Nupe is now a non-resentful tributary.

THE KINGDOM OF BORNU

Maldon

DIPLOMACY: Zaria(ea), Gwari(nt)

The Sand Masters of Bornu renamed the city of Kanem for Chad after the lake it catches its bluegill trout from. Maldon spread his clawed tentacles out to discuss beer with Zaria and fetishes with the grumpy Gwari. Maldon's new wife has to wait a little longer for the arrival of the stork.

THE SUPREMACY OF TOGO

Oikbewto, Supreme Oba of Togo

DIPLOMACY: no effect

Garoti tried to stop the Kongo from encroaching on life. It wasn't good enough. Kongo put the better effort into their tributary land. A better opportunity had just availed itself closer to home anyway. The new Mossi leader was not as good as his predecessor and never leaves his hut.

THE BANTU KINGS OF KONGO

Npotaigui, King of Ba-Congo

DIPLOMACY: Igbo(a), Ife(ea), Lunda(fa)

The life sweepstakes was won by Topa and his gifts of dried gorilla hands and love potions. Douala was colonized to (2/6) since its now cultivated. Uninhabited Barotse was settled to (0/6) AF - This new territory is just south of Lunda and is a good route to trade with the Jewish Zimbabwe. Mirawa got hitched in the neighborhood he was in but he just wasn't that serious about having children.

East Africa

Mercs: 10mi, 10mw

THE GREAT ZIMBABWE

Five Twin Jackal, Immortal Ancestor of the Zimbabwe, Chief Zimbabwe Royal

DIPLOMACY: Melela(ea)

The Hidden Jewish Empire of the Immortal Five Twin Jackal urbanized some more. Lesser Zimbabwe, XaiXai and Mopizza grew some more (and yet remained camouflaged to the terrain). Bassa gained a Zambezi river city called Softsmelt (if you can find it). The Immortal wasn't really interested about converting Melela, he just wanted their money.

THE TULAKA RAJ OF SAKALAVA

Vishuhapa II

DIPLOMACY: none

Lemurs began to play tricks on the Tulaka people. Food was often stolen and was replaced with rocks. Baskets were filled with sticks and dirt. The royalty listened to the whining but made no action against these weird beasts.

THE BECOBA NATION

Kankarunka, Fortune Smiles Upon He

DIPLOMACY: none

Bembe saved their stuff.

THE KRAKAS KINGDOM OF AETHIOPIA

Dahangeo Krakas, Ben Unis, King of Aethiopia

DIPLOMACY: no effect

Tuwasel, now solely in charge of the 'KIM Basoko' army, looted Kikuyu and headed out letting Kikuyu, Buganda and Gamo-Gofa to revert to neutral. As he left this fly infested, disease ridden place, he heard the distant thunder of drums. Seven cities expanded - Bur Sudan, Massawa, Aseb, Soba, Dongola and Djibouti. Liguria kept sending those small sacks of coins with a note, "Don't spend it all in one place!"

EUROPE

Western Europe

Mercs: 10mhc, 10mhi, 10mrw

THE SULTANATE OF IEST

Ahmad

DIPLOMACY: none

Iest grew to 5 GPv and in Misr, the Red Sea port of Suez was built. Liguria gold found its way to Ahmad's coffers where it was forgotten.

Ahmad was out. He took that navy of 110 elite warships, 640 regular galleys and 50 corsairs and invaded Corsica. The Dulio Principate had nothing to stop the Mahidian landing troops. 20,000 Muslims stomped on the 5000 Catholic islanders. Corsica was pacified and ulama started to convert these infidels (before it was too late) to Islam. Because an insufficient garrison was left behind, Corsica rebelled killing 3000 unlucky troopers.

THE PRINCIPALITY OF THE ISLES

Oskar and his rye bread lieutenant were caught by Iesti troopers and were hauled off to Africa as prisoners (Rumor has it they were enrolled in the Black Tower Chain Gang, a string of slaves that perform only the most dangerous labors). The Dulio treasure was taken. The rest of the pirates abandoned ship, as they say. Corsica is now a neutral region with a significant Muslim minority.

THE COUNTY OF CONNAUGHT

Pitoocy Mac Duc, Count of Connaught

DIPLOMACY: none

The Mac Ducs started trade with anyone they could reach. There wasn't enough port space for all the transports in Galway.

THE NORMAN KINGDOM OF ENGLAND

Eric, King of England

DIPLOMACY: none

The English burned their skull-bone hats and braced for repercussions. There were none (wimps). Helston and London grew to 6 GPv, each.

THE NORMAN KINGDOM OF SAXONIA

William (III) the Cavalier, King of the Saxons and of the Normans, Count of Blois

DIPLOMACY: none

The Cavalier wanted more boats. So a portion of the army was demobilized. Now internal trade expanded. Rouens grew to 5 levels of human habitation. Barcelona has 9 gold points and Sete, 8.

THE ALMORAVID EMIRATE OF ANDALUSIA

Marwan II, Emir as Sevilla

DIPLOMACY: Arguin(f), Gambia(nt)

All cities in the Western Emirat saw an uptick in population. A new town, Toledo, was built in Talavera, around the ciadel Al Baralaha ("The High Hawk"). The navy expanded, but their job was to clog up the harbors. Prince Hishram died young. The new heir was Uthman, Hishram's brother. Marwan II has just passed his 120th lunar year birthday. He has outlived all his children and some of his grandchildren. New trade started with Afghanistan and Ireland.

THE LIGURIAN KINGDOM OF ITALY

Marcus, Rex Lagobardum

DIPLOMACY: Santanu Kingdom (hostile, but still trading)

All of Liguria's port cities except Asuvvana grew. The ports were then jammed with all kinds of trading ships. Erbetto journeyed to the exotic kingdom of San Tana and tried to tell them that the Kingdom of Calucca (A slightly less exotic place) was all right. The San Tana thought Erbetto to be an evil presence and evicted him. Erbetto advised Marcus that Liguria should convert to Hindu if they wish to exert influence in this distant land. Converting to the worship of fire-hellspawn? Not in the Pope's back yard. Gazil found nothing interesting in the backwoods of Liguria and Provence. He knows, though, something fishy is going on there. People are disappearing.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Benedict X, Bishop of Rome, Vicar of Christ, Servant of the Servants of God, Supreme Pontiff on the Universal Church

DIPLOMACY: none

Despite the founding of new abbeys in Myria, Friesland, Slovakia, Carpathia, Alfold, Tver and Trangau, the building of monasteries in Westphalia, Lithuania, Kaluga and Gornel, and even a cathedral in Bohemia, there was some major divestments in Papal infrastructure. Benedict X asked local fathers to help out for the Papal See would be unable to handle its own government. The Pope's Christy Rod was hereby involved only in the really important stuff like the Dulio affairs, funding the Baltic States and Ireland and assisting the German and Scandinavian pursuit of knowledge.

Eastern Europe

Mercs: 30mc, 10mi

THE REPUBLIC OF STYRIA

Rolfo Untero, Grand Doge of Trangau

DIPLOMACY: Swabia(ea)

The house of Untero kept the power for the time being favoring Wyst (which grew to 5 gold levels). There were no invaders to fight. 'Pears the two hundred years of peace was effective. So Kawell attacked the Thuringians and pacified these wayward souls.

THE NORDIK KINGDOM OF THAERY

Brant, King of the Danes

DIPLOMACY: none

The Danes girded against new buccaneering. They were not out there. So Arnhelm remained in his Jutland port wining and wenching in Avente.

THE GRAND PRINCIPALITY OF WARSAW

Kelsida, Great Princess of Warsaw

DIPLOMACY: none

The Queen wanted Status Quo, and boy did she get it.

THE KINGDOM OF THE BALTS

DIPLOMACY: none

The Christian outpost on the wild frontier zone was unmolested.

THE DIHAJ HOST

Tagaktu, Mighty Servant of Allah

DIPLOMACY: Suvar(t), Taman(f)

The Dihaj Lord made Suvar feel welcome to join his growing nation. The Taman ally died and willed his land of Tagaktu.

THE PSECHULEN ROMAN EMPIRE

Demetrios Psechulen, Imperator Romanus Orientalis, Despot of Crimea

DIPLOMACY: none

Catholic influence grew in Crimea. Demetrios didn't stop the effort.

THE EMPIRE OF ABYDUS

Theopilos Comnenus, Imperator Romanus Orientalis

DIPLOMACY: Rhodes(a)

He who restored the Comneni to power (at great cost), died in his sleep (unusual for his part of the world). Theopilos became the new Emperor of the Abydos realm. Corinth increased to its 5th level. Trade with the Ghorids started now that Ghor's Nile port is viable.

AL RAHJETALUD EMIRAT

Mohammad

DIPLOMACY: none

Mohammad moved his court and government to Chalcedon, which coincidentally, converted to friendly this turn. So now Optimaton has become the Rahjetalud homeland. Overseas trade started with the Abyssinians, Crimeans, Styrians and Poles.

THE DAR AL ISLAM - ARBILIQ CALIPHATE

An Nasir, Kalifat Rasul Allah, Commander of the Faithful

DIPLOMACY: none

Karbogha guarded Crete, on the watch for any hostile intent by sea. Having seen none, the old captain died of 'sea fever'. The road network was improved, making the Arab lands easy to rule. From Acre, the Caliph's Highway extended to Jerusalem. Three cities grew to 7 GPv: Acre, Basra and Antioch. Adana in Cilicia is up to 6 GPv.

THE KAHINDARID SHAHDOM OF RAY

Al Kahindar, Shah of Rayy

DIPLOMACY: Dasht Kavir(nt, but it would revolt), Khurasan(fa), Khokhand(f, it dropped out)

Yuhana spent his last years mending bridges with the Silk Road princes. He promised to rebuild or expand cities but that wasn't seen as credible to the 'Great Devastator'. Yuhana's death threw the Sultan into a turmoil for he was the last of the Parthid Princes. Dasht Kavir and Khokhad reveled. The new strongman, Al Kahindar, was formerly Yuhana's lieutenant's aide de camp.

THE GHORID SULTANATE OF AFGHANISTAN

Bayezid, Sultan of Afghans

DIPLOMACY: Tukharistan(fa), Khuttal(a)

The Ghorids restored their Nile fortress in Ghebal Gharib. Italian and Greek goods arrived from this way station to the bazaars of newly increased Chah Bahar and Antizani. Shah Bayezid wouldn't believe the rumors he hears that Ghebal Gharib wants to declare their independence.

India

Merces: 10mwe, 10mhc, 30mc

THE HARAYUK RAJPUT EMPIRE

Rupika Isanavara, Khan of Khans, Master of Kaunaj

DIPLOMACY: Maghada(fa)

The main Harayuk army of 25,000 cavalry was allowed to be commanded by foreigners (much to the soldiers' disdain) to fight in the Burmese Civil War. No one ultimately showed up to take them away. The fighting men were relieved. What was left (very few troops) were led by Prince Nayakaditya to pound on the rebel Sukduri. With only 12,000 infantry, Nayakaditya defeated the Sukdur king's army. Only 1500 men were lost in battle. Khaipur and all Sukdur was pacified. Kaunaj grew to become the largest city in India.

THE SANTANU KINGDOM OF GOEBLIGUK

Santanu Sholalita II

DIPLOMACY: none

A demon-lord from the Occident attempted to subvert King Sholalita. He would not convert to the devil-worship and forsake the mantras. What shivered Sholalita the most was that the demons did what the Chalukya told them to do. So trade was cut with Chalukya.

THE CHALUKYA KINGDOM OF BANAVASI

Chalukya Saivehesa

DIPLOMACY: Andhra(a)

A note was sent from Sholalita that unification was not possible. Kerala has become cultivated.

THE SHAGUNGA EMPIRE

Dhruva Shagunga, Emperor of Konorak

DIPLOMACY: Chela(t)

THE ASSAM KINGDOM

Pyinmana

DIPLOMACY: none

Pyinmana's Brahmaputra trip made him the hero of the Burmese War. His ex-boss, U Pyaw, wasn't so fortunate. Goodwill won't last forever - Pyinmana has to get back home.

CRISIS IN INDONESIA (1385-1404+)

Burmese Civil War: Assam, Burma vs. Kwa, Vietnam

Java War: Chekiang, Vietnam, Makassar vs. Java

1401

Long Joe Mo wanted to build new troops but couldn't without his capital city, which was still Prambanan. He went ahead with his plan anyway without them, hoping to get reinforcements later. In Johor King Taningganwe Umon was wounded by a pro-Binnya assassin. Kaw Man interposed himself and was killed by the agent. He saved Umon's life. The second-in-command Hkonmaing took command of the Kwain forces. The Kwain evacuated Johor and Perak, expecting the Makassar to take over these provinces, but they reverted to Java control.

A Vietnamese army marched from Tonkin to assist the Kwa faction.

The Chekiang fleet of Quai Chang garrisoned the Riour Sea and sailed up the Prambanan River to Srivijaya searching for the Java fleet. Since they weren't in either location (they had moved to the ferry routes between Lampung and Sunda), the Chinese sailed for home. The Vietnamese transports led by Quoi Udon also went home. They were disappointed at the Chinese lack of adventure.

The Assamese King had common cause with the Burma faction and combined forces in Burma. They marched south to contest Kwa territory.

In September, the Java fleet of 250 warships engaged the Makassar ships: 110 chuanbo and 85 barges. Supported by the 2100 catapults and some scouting, the Javanese sunk the Makassar fleet ensuring a safe ferry crossing to Sunda.

1402

The Javanese army landed in Sunda to face a superbly trained and equipped army. Despite favorable terrain and weather, the Javanese force of 2100 catapults and 10,000 cavalry were mauled by the Makassar Colonizers: 10,000 elite heavy infantry, 5000 regular heavy infantry, 11,000 Makassar and Kedah regular light infantry, 1000 elite heavy cavalry and 5000 elite light cavalry. A battle of two days ended with Long Joe Mo's flight with only 1500 cavalry to the protective hulls of the Java navy. Long Joe's assistant Chahandrasam had been captured. Fomoi of Kedah, with no army left, rebelled and became another neutral region.

Victorious, Zhen Ju of Makassar colonized Sunda after its pacification making the region a Mahayana Buddhist region. Prince Zhen Yao colonized Kediri facing some resistance and converted the land of Mahayana Buddhism with some settlers from China and Vietnam. Both areas have sizable Hindu populations.

Meanwhile up north and a little bit west, the combined Assam-Pagan force stumbled into the meeting point of the Vietnamese and Kwain armies.

"Hey, look who shows up."

"Saves us the trouble of finding them."

King U Pyaw led 9500 Assam cavalry, 14,000 garrison shield men, 13,500 garrison javeliners to battle. King Binnya Ran fronted 5000 Pagan cavalry, 5000 swordsmen and 13,500 Ava spearmen. It was a good size army if they didn't have to deal with 20,000 Vietnamese armored and silk clad elite cavalymen, 22,500 Kwain cavalry, 10,000 elite Viet legionnaires, 22,000 Kwain shock troops, 250 mercenary war elephants, 10,000 mercenary irregulars and 15,000 Mon archers. The assemblage could have been larger but 10,000 mercenary swordsmen were 'convinced' to take a vacation with a bribe from Binnya Ran. Still, the battle of Kram Hill (April, 1402) put an end to Binnya's rebellion and broke Assam's military might. With the loss of only 12,000 skirmishers, the Kwain and Viet armies obliterated the Assam and Pagan marchers. An additional 5000 men died when the elephants ran amok. Kings U Pyaw and Binnya Ran were captured and were trampled to death.

1403

The Kwain commander, Hkonmaing, and Viet general Guang Noi headed through Thaton (leaving it alone) to take Pegu, storming the walls of Bassein and the Pegu citadel to gain control of the land.

The Makassar colonized Pajajaran with the remainder of their transport colonists and made the old Java homeland their homeland with Prambanan the capital. The Aquarium finally made Lampung their new homeland with Srivijaya as the de facto seat of power.

Late in the year, a landing of 4500 Assamese marines led by Pyinmana snuck into Kwa by way of neutral Kedah and captured the Kwain capital, Golden Portals. King Umon was killed (for he had stayed behind) and the Kwa state suffered a collapse.

1404

Hkonmaing ignored the fall of Golden Portals and captured Pagan, decapitating the already reeling Burma Kingdom. By pacifying Burma, he gained a new government to replace the one he just lost. Hkonmaing made himself King at Pendash, Mon's city. Pyinmana, himself, was acclaimed the new King of Assam, but he had to get back home to claim his title.

Without a Burmese government, Arakan, Kayah, Korat, Lampang and Thaton became independent kingdoms.
